

$1,000,000 FOR DEFENSE OF MINERS

Labor Unions All Our United States Aiding.

Every Room in Boise Engaged by Army of Lawyers And Reporters.

Boise, Idaho, May 5.—Practically every available room in Boise has been reserved for lawyers, witnesses or newspaper men in attendance on the court which will try William D. Haywood on the charge of murder of former Governor Steunenberg.

That there might be some delay is intimated from time to time, but the features of this have now been dissipated by statements emanating from both sides. Clarence Darrow, of Chicago, and E. F. Richardson, of Denver, jointly leading counsel for the defense of Haywood, have both stated that they are ready for trial.

It is believed that the defense fund which has been raised by labor unions and the Western Federation of Miners is more than $1,000,000.

Counsel for the prosecution, James H. Hawley and Senator W. E. Borah, who have been engaged especially, are of the opinion that there will be no further delay. An application for a bill of particulars filed by the defense will be argued to-morrow morning before Judge Wood, who will try the Haywood case, but as his decision is not applicable it is not thought that this will cause any postponement.

The history of the cases of the men charged with the murder of Steunenberg shows much delay, all of which has been necessarily expensive to the State of Idaho and to the defense. The State has already paid bills amounting to $52,000, and at the last session of the Legislature of Idaho an appropriation of $50,000 additional was unanimously passed, all parties concurring.

When Gov. Steunenberg was assassinated the mine owners association offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the murderer. Later this amount was returned to the mine owners by Gov. Gooding, with the statement that the State of Idaho would defray the cost of the prosecution of the murderer or murderers whoever they might be.

James H. Hawley, leading counsel for the prosecution, was asked to-day to explain the reasons for the delay in the trial of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. It has been charged that the State has wilfully caused the delay, and that the prisoners have been kept in confinement without trial for an unwarranted period. Mr. Hawley said:

"The revised statutes of the United States treating of appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States from United States Circuit Courts in habeas corpus where a prisoner is held by State courts, makes null and void any of the State pending an appeal. The great majority of courts of last resort hold any action on the part of the trial court absolutely void until the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States has been actually rendered."

"It will be seen, therefore, that if in May, 1906, we had proceeded with the trial in the trial court of this State before the decision of the Supreme Court had been rendered, the defendants would have been discharged, as they could not a second time be put in jeopardy of their lives."

"Senator Borah and myself, acting for the State, shortly before the convening of the District Court of Canyon county in May, 1906, called the attention of the defendants' attorneys to this provision of the United States statutes and stated in a letter to them that we were ready and anxious for an immediate trial, and if they also were ready they should arrange matters so that we could proceed to trial without harm being worked to the defendants. We pointed out that all of their rights would be saved if the appeal from the Circuit Court was dismissed."

"The attorneys for the defendants answered our letter, declining to dismiss the appeal and expressing themselves as fearful that a question of jurisdiction might arise upon the proceedings of the Supreme Court of this State, which would be injurious to them in the appeal from the United States Circuit Court was dismissed."

"On the opening day of the State

District Court in May, 1906, we called the attention of that court to the section of the United States statute, and the court, after due consideration, held that no proceedings could be had in that court as long as the appeal from the United States Circuit Court was pending in the Supreme Court of the United States. This ruling necessarily continued the case until the appeal was disposed of."

New Coal Mine.

A new coal company has been organized by Central City and Eastern capitalists for the purpose of opening and operating a coal mine at Horse Branch. The concern has been incorporated under the name of the Lillian Coal Co.

The company takes over the holdings of Fred Ackart, which amount to over 5,000 acres of a field of an excellent quality of No. 9 coal. Work will begin in a few days and the latest improved machinery put in.

The officers of the new corporation will be Fred Ackart, President and General Manager; J. R. Herrings, Vice President; L. E. Ackart, Secretary and Treasurer.

MILLIONAIRE IS ARRESTED BY NEGRO

Head of American Fruit Machine Co., Charged With Being a "Hotel Beat."

Atlantic City, N. J., May 6.—Charged with being a "hotel beat" under the Jersey law, Edward B. Mackay, millionaire and head of the American Fruit Machine company, of Philadelphia, was arrested on the board walk by a negro constable and given a hearing before Justice of Peace DeHart, who withheld his decision in the case for the present. The charge is based on the alleged failure of Mackay to pay a bill of $225, contracted for board and treatment in a local sanitarium, conducted by Reed Evans, a young woman, who claims that the man stopped the check on a Philadelphia bank which he had given in payment.

According to the story told before the magistrate, Mackay was sent to the sanitarium by his physician last July and remained for three weeks. The bill was presented to him and he gave a check on his bank in payment. This was afterwards stopped, but Mackay had returned to Philadelphia and could not be reached under the New Jersey law. Suit was started in Pennsylvania, however, and is still pending. Word was brought yesterday to the woman that Mackay was in this city and she at once communicated with lawyers and swore out a criminal warrant for his arrest under the "beat" law, which proscribes fine or imprisonment for the offense if proved.

Mackay entered $300 bail for the hearing which occurred this morning. His defense was that the sanitarium was not a licensed boarding house and therefore not entitled to collect the money and on the technical point the magistrate reserved his decision.

Baby Found in Depot.

Morganfield, Ky., May 7.—A baby boy, judged to be about eleven months old, was found wrapped in an undershirt and shirt in the ladies waiting room of the Illinois Central depot last night about 9 o'clock. Two women waiting here for the midnight train, returned to the station after church was over, and noticed a bundle lying on the seat nearest the door. From the bundle protruded one tiny foot. The agent was called to investigate, and the undressed and healthy infant was found.

Some Released Some Held.

Of the the Hell's neckers who were reported as participants in the shooting match, particulars of which appeared in these columns last week, Lon Hall, Andy Peach and Ream Fielden who had their examining trial before Judge W. B. Taylor Monday were held over on the charge of shooting with intent to kill to await the action of the next grand jury. Their bonds were fixed at $100 each. They were each also put under a $500 bond to keep the peace, all of which were executed. The trial of Tom Coghill, who was arrested under the same charge and growing out of the same scrap, will be heard before Judge Taylor one day this week.

Charley Peach was released on his own recognizance for his appearance at Circuit Court. He was not "bound over to keep the peace."

JEALOUS LOVER SHOT DOWN BY GIRL'S ESCORT

Tried to Force Girl to Leave Buggy and Accompany Him.

The love of two young men of Miss Regina Dickens, a pretty young woman twenty years of age, will probably result in the death of one of the suitors. James Walker, twenty-nine years of age, was shot by Jack Peak, eighteen years of age, at Short's station at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and at last reports the attending physician reported that his recovery was doubtful.

The shooting was one of the most sensational which has occurred in Daviess county for some time. Miss Dickens had been a guest at the home of Robert Peak, father of Jack Peak. Late Sunday afternoon she decided to return to her home at Short's station, and Jack Peak said that he would take her home in his buggy.

The couple had gone only a short distance along the country road, according to Peak, when they saw Walker coming in his buggy.

They turned around and started back down the road. It is said that Walker whipped his horse into a run and overtook Miss Dickens and Peak. He jumped out of his buggy and allowed his horse to go on down the road. After getting out of the buggy he caught hold of the reins of Peak's horse and stopped the buggy. He then walked up to the buggy, it is alleged, and took hold of Miss Dickens' arm and told her to get out of the buggy.

Peak said he told Walker if he did not desist in his efforts to get Miss Dickens out of the buggy that he would shoot him.

"You are a liar!" was the answer Walker is said to have given Peak.

The young man reached his hand down in the bottom of the buggy and produced a revolver. Walker was holding the girl by the arm at the time. Peak fired one shot at him. The bullet pierced Walker's right breast and he fell to the ground.

Peak whipped his horse into a run and returned to his home where he told his father of what had occurred. Walker was removed to the home of James Bell at Short's station.

Dr. Harris was summoned and attended the wounded man. It was found that the bullet had pierced his right lung. The bullet ranged downward and was cut out of his back.

Peak was not placed under arrest until Monday.

The parties concerned in this affair are well known in Daviess county. Their parents are highly respected farmers, and the shooting is greatly deplored in the community in which it occurred.

Later reports give the affair a different phase. Miss Dickens has been at the bedside of her earlier and more persistent suitor and it is now said that her testimony will incriminate Peake seriously and, it is alleged, that she will swear that the shooting was done without provocation and even before Walker had said anything to Peake.

Sons of Presidents.

Youth's Companion disposes of the impression that President's sons have amounted to little. The impression has likely arisen because the glory of the parent eclipsed the effort of the son. Youth's Companion recites that "twenty-one sons of the Presidents reached maturity, nine of them have held prominent positions, and all but one or two have been substantial citizens. A son of John Adams became President, and a grandson was a member of Congress and Minister to England. One of Lincoln's sons was a Cabinet Minister and a Minister to England, and one of Grant's sons has had a distinguished career in diplomacy and in the army. Two of Garfield's sons have risen to fame, one as a college professor and the other as a Cabinet Minister. The son of William Henry Harrison was a man of great influence in his own State and became the father of Benjamin Harrison, so that he was the son of one President and the father of another."

Prompt Action by Higher Court.

For promptness and swift justice the Kentucky Court of Appeals broke the record last Friday when it handed down an opinion in important Ohio county cases.

The consolidated actions of Murphy, Thompson & Co., vs. Geo. W. Reid; Murphy, Thompson & Co., vs. W. M.

Addington and Murphy, Thompson & Co. vs. Clinton Igleheart were reversed after oral argument which was heard on Tuesday. Judge J. S. Glenn and R. E. Lee Simmerman represented the appellants and Messrs. W. H. Barnes and S. A. Anderson the appellees.

Louisville Herald Incorporated.

New York, May 7.—The Louisville Herald company was incorporated Saturday in New Jersey with a capital stock of $600,000, divided between $300,000 6 per cent. cumulative preferred and $300,000 common. The preferred shares are redeemable at $125 on January 1, 1912.

The incorporators are George A. Newman, Jr., A. T. Macdonald, Jas. W. Brown, Bernard Flexner, Fenton Dowling, Benjamin S. Washer and George A. Newman, Sr., all of Kentucky. The registered office is at 1 Exchange Place, Jersey City.

FREE TRIP TO JAMESTOWN CONTEST

First Count Shows Several Active Candidates But Room For More.

Below is given the candidates who have entered the contest for free trip to Jamestown Exposition which we are conducting and the vote of each to noon yesterday. The vote reveals the fact that there are live wide-awake candidates in the field yet the contest is just launched and there is yet room for other contestants. Some of the candidates whose vote now stands at the top or ranking close to that point have entered the race within the past ten days. Large sections of the county being unrepresented there is yet room for other candidates.

The ballots as they are counted will be deposited in a lock ballot box and will be preserved until the contest ends so that if there is any question about the correctness of the counts, the ballots may be referred to for the purpose of correction.

The vote to yesterday at noon is as follows:

NORTH SIDE.

Miss Mertie Willford, Noreek...1,690
Miss Cora Thomasson, Hefflin...1,895
Miss Josie Magan, Buford..... 35

SOUTH SIDE.

Miss Bertha Jirtle, Hartford...2,775
Miss Ethelyn Pines, Hartford R. F. D. No. 1.....2,665
Miss Nettie Rowe, Centertown... 505
Miss Marie Austin, Beaver Dam... 205
Miss Harriett Flener, Cronwell... 100

Sensational Law Suit.

One of the most sensational cases on the McLean Circuit Court docket for a number of years is the divorce suit of E. L. Davis against his wife in which he charges immoral conduct, and names J. P. Shrader as co-respondent says a Calhoun dispatch. Davis has also filed a suit for $10,000 damage against Shrader for alienating the affections of his wife. It is expected that both cases will be continued.

Messrs. Barnes & Anderson, prominent attorneys, of Hartford, are representing Mr. Davis in the damage suit.

Death of an Old Citizen.

At the home of his son, G. W. Bennett, near Beda, at the ripe old age of almost 90 years, Mr. William J. Bennett passed away, last Sunday evening. He was one of the very oldest citizens of the county and was held in the highest esteem by his friends and neighbors. From boyhood he had been a devout member of the Methodist church, and was noted for his extreme piety. His remains were consigned to their last resting place Monday afternoon at the Old Mill cemetery, beside his life companion who had died just 12 years before on the same day.

His funeral was conducted at Mt. Herman church by Rev. Fletcher Williams, his pastor, in the presence of a large gathering of his relatives and neighbors. He is survived by four children, Rev. J. A. Bennett, Mr. G. W. Bennett, Mrs. John London and Mrs. David London. He lived to see forty-two grandchildren and thirty-eight great-grandchildren. Few men in our county have lived to see so large a number of his descendants.

Call Meeting.

Preston Morton Post No. 4, G. A. R., is called to meet at the court house in Hartford Saturday, May 18, to attend to important business.

F. M. PORTER, Com'r.

BRIEF TERM OF OWENSBORO FEDERAL COURT

Less Than Five Hours Used by Judge Evans in Disposing of Docket.

United States Court was in session less than five hours Monday when Clerk Cassin announced to Judge Evans that the business of the session had been completed. Judge Evans at once adjourned the court. No civil case was tried, and only a few criminal cases were tried, and these were unimportant. Three negroes, Tom Carter, William Morehead and Bob Fisher were each fined $100 and given thirty days in jail for retailing liquor without a license. The same penalty was inflicted on four white men, Bud Bailey, Tom Mallory and Alex. Sample for the same offense. The case against "Piggy" Green for counterfeiting was continued until the next term of court. The suit of Cora B. Dalton for $10,000 against the Interstate Assurance company on an accident policy, was continued at the cost of the one for whom the continuance was granted. Attorney Charles Martindale, of Indianapolis, was present as one of the attorneys concerned. Miller and Todd represented the other side and they were ready for trial and anxious for it. There was more delay over this than over any one trial.

Following are the jurors:

Petit—Joseph Jones, A. P. Ford, J. P. Troutman, Poston Murphy, John T. Atchinson, John Gilmore, Malcolm McIntyre, Hiram Bristow, Henry Field, W. C. Atchison, John Hoover, John Watkins, J. P. Myers, James A. Blackford, A. W. Major, W. L. Kuykendall, W. J. Bone, H. C. Davis, John H. King, G. W. Tines, R. J. Miller, J. S. Payne, W. T. Shifflett, G. M. Gannon, H. G. Smith, Hugh Gilbert, Jas. M. Gill.

Grand jury—T. A. Pedley, Frank Katterjohn, J. Y. Small, C. M. Shackelford, John C. Thomas, G. B. Williams, J. D. Davidson, C. G. Henson, M. M. Kimmel, W. A. Drake, James M. Gill, C. T. Duncan, J. M. Starling, A. E. Hill, James McDaniels, Richard Ross, Henry Snowder.

Railroad Notes.

Mr. Steven May, of Hartford, has been given the contract, formerly held by Mr. Moorman, extending from the Fogle hill west about one mile.

The big steam shovel which is being placed in position at Sunnysdale, will be ready for work next week. It will be run sixteen hours a day and has a capacity of 1,000 yards per day.

We are informed by the local engineer's office that the work of grading on the whole line is 38 per cent. complete. This would indicate that the road may be in operation by March, 1908.

The coffer dam for pier No. 3, at the Green river bridge site floated from its position Tuesday, owing to the sudden rise, and sank in the middle of the river. This will cause some delay and entail a loss of about $1,000 to the contractor.

BUFORD.

May 8.—Mr. Pendleton Holbrook is visiting his parents. He is talking of going west for his health.

Little Miss Etta Louise Tichenor, of Nuckols, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holbrook.

Mr. Sam Rhodes is on the sick list.

Walter Blair has chills. Miss Rengel Jewell and Lonnie Ashley, Miss Pearl Mitchell and Harden Ashley were quietly married at G. W. Jewell's last Saturday by Rev. J. A. Bennett. All are of the Taffy neighborhood except Miss Jewell, she being the youngest and last single daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jewell.

Master Ervin Whalin, of Owensboro, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cundiff.

Mr. William Nicholson and family visited Mrs. Nicholson's parents, Mr. Henry Travis, of the Washington neighborhood, Saturday, returning Monday.

Hermion Lyons returned home Sunday, after being absent several weeks.

Miss Hazel Cundiff returned home Sunday, after visiting her sister, Mrs. James Garrett, of Owensboro, the past week.

Mrs. Sam Holbrook is visiting her mother, Mrs. Missouri King, of Henderson.

Mr. Walter Blair and wife visited

Mrs. Blair's sister, Mrs. Wilson Underwood, of Livia, Tuesday.

TAFFY.

May 8.—Rev. G. W. Jones, wife and daughter, Gracie, and Oliver Hoover, of Pellville, visited in Clear Run vicinity last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. Jones preached at the Baptist church Saturday night, and Sunday at Clear Run.

Mr. John H. Park is rafting logs and will start to Evansville in a day or two.

George Maddox lost a horse Tuesday.

Mrs. Pearl Park has returned home from Owensboro, where she has been visiting her parents.

Little Miss Effie Park has been having chills.

Orland Park has accepted a position on the railroad, near Marvin's Chappel.

Mrs. John H. Park is on the sick list.

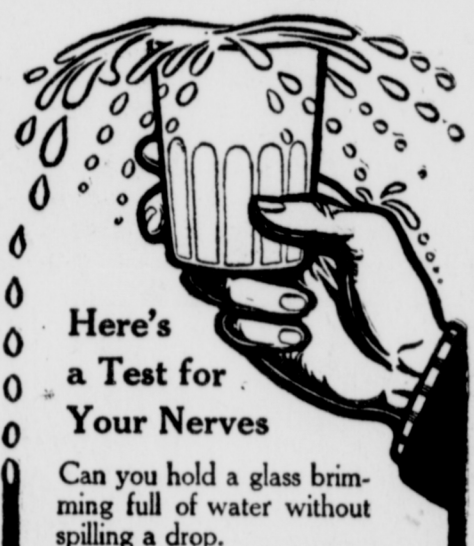

SENDER OF THREATENING LETTER KNOWN.

Fire Marshal Mott Ayers Has Prominent Citizen Spotted.

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian says:—"Fire Marshal Mott Ayers announces that he has fixed upon a citizen of Wallonia, Ky., the crime of writing a threatening letter to R. C. Walls, of Rindaldo, Ky., whose property was soon afterwards destroyed by night riders, who rolled some of his tobacco in hogheads into the Cumberland river and burned his factory. The first outrage was in Trigg county, the incendiarism in Lyon county. The handwriting of the letter has been identified by experts as that of a prominent citizen of Trigg county, and the envelope used has been identified as a return stamped envelope sent to the suspected party by a bridge company of Wilmington, Ohio. The handwriting is very characteristic and easily identified. Col. Ayers makes the positive statement that he has made out a plain case against the man, and if the circuit court wishes to assume jurisdiction let him be summoned. The name of the guilty party will not be a surprise to the public."

Marriage License.

The following marriage license have been issued since our last report: Hardin Ashley, Taffy, age 23, to Pearl Mitchell, Westerfield, age 16; Lonnie Ashley, Taffy, age 20, to Renyce Jewell, Buford, age 17; E. R. Griffin, Hanson, Ky., age 21, to Mattie Cassina, Kirtley, age 18; Darian Wade, McHenry, age 21, to Rilla Hobby, Beaver Dam, age 21; Tilford Raymer, Rosine, age 24, to Mary Ann McDaniel, Rosine, age 37.

A KANSAS CITY MAN IS FAMOUS CURIOSITY.

Has Only Half a Brain Yet He Makes His Own Living.

George L. Chapman, a world-famous curiosity among medical men, was exhibited to the classes of the Kansas Medical College recently. He is a wonderful example of a tradition current among medical doctors that the average person has a large surplusage of brains. As the result of a gunshot wound received when he was a boy and the subsequent surgical operation which followed, Chapman had a teacupful, or, to reduce the quantity to more exact terms, six ounces of his brain removed when he was thirteen years old.

The right side of his skull was removed and the injured portion of the brain taken out. The brain substance removed was practically all from the right hemisphere.

Instead of dying, as everything indicated he would, Chapman lingered between life and death. His head was almost frozen in an effort to keep the temperature down. Part of the right ear was actually frozen off in this manner. But after spending two years in bed, not being able to stand as a result of the injury, he finally became able to get around.

A huge scar remains where the surgeons removed the skull and brain from Chapman's head. The brain substance here lies beneath a single thickness of skin and it is possible to observe the pulsation of the cerebral blood vessels by watching the bare skin which covers the unprotected brain. In sleeping, if he lies on the right side of his head it fills with blood, practically drowning the brain. He is then completely paralyzed and helpless until some one turns him over, when his brain drains and resume its functions.

Chapman makes his living by traveling about and exhibiting himself to medical colleges, taking up a collection at each place. He is in great demand as an illustration of the relations between the hemispheres of the brain and the muscles of the body. He has exhibited himself all over this country and in Europe and Canada.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is BETTER than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by all druggists.

Fertilizing for Fruit.

The growing of fruit demands labor at the proper time, and considerable work is done before spring opens. Where growers have combined to keep insects and parasites in check the result has been beneficial. If the labor and cost of fertilizers must be considered it is safe to assert that fruit growers derive larger profits from raspberries and blackberries than many of them deserve, as it is only when picking and harvesting the crop that the real labor is performed. After such crops are harvested some fields receive but little care and cultivation, and it is seldom that manures or fertilizers are applied, though the strawberry is treated differently. Enterprising fruit growers maintain that it pays to give blackberry and raspberry canes good cultivation, and to apply fertilizers liberally as the increased crop of berries and vigorous vines more than pay the expense. During periods of drought the grassy rows of canes must compete for moisture with intruders, and it often happens that a dry period sets in just at the time the berries are ripening, and when moisture is greatly needed. When the soil is clear of grass and weeds, and the surface of the ground loose, the loss from lack of moisture is greatly reduced.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by all druggists.

Can't be Too Careful.

One of our exchanges tells about a young woman who attended a party and before going on the floor for a waltz stuck her chewing gum under the chair. A young man who had been treated scornfully by her thought he would play even. He took a wad of gum, spread it out and placed a piece of tobacco inside, rolled the gum and stuck it under the chair. When the dance was ended she started for her chair, putting the gum in her mouth, and it was said by those who witnessed the scene that when the tobacco began to get in its work there was the most peculiar acting ever done before a large audience. All the rest of the evening she stood there and leaned against the chair a perfect picture of homesickness. Girls can't be too careful where they put their gum.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that it is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. HOW ABOUT THE MODERN WOMAN.

Is She The Same Old One With a Few New Clothes or is She New?

A woman may have manners and no mind, or mind and no manners; but the complete woman will have both.

This remark was made by a woman lecturer in the course of an address on the subject of "Is the Modern Woman a Failure?"

"The epithet, 'modern woman,' is applied as a term of opprobrium," said she. "There is no reason why it should be, except the Anglo-Saxon's antipathy to adapt himself to changes, and because it is easier for him to 'label' than to comprehend."

"The modern woman is not something new and monstrous. She is like Eve, only seen under modern conditions. Women will become living realities, instead of pale, distorted reflections."

"Man's objection to the modern woman is quite easy to understand and appreciate. He dreads the unknown."

"For centuries woman has been the slave, and man now suddenly sees the race he has greatly wronged set loose on society. The clock can not be put back. Woman will go far, but it will be upward. The objection and dislike of men are really a touching flattery."

"Man needs to the full the sympathy and sacrifice of woman, and he dreads to lose it."

"But it is clear that man's ideals are changed, and that he is seeing the ideal woman."

"A true woman, imbued with the modern spirit, can do exactly as she likes, because she will never do anything in bad taste."

OUR NATIVE TONGUE MUCH COMPLICATED.

European People Have Little Love For English Language.

The people of continental Europe who are under the necessity of learning the English language have little affection for it. Its complicated origin has laden it with an immense number of inconsistencies, contradictions and duplications, and above all with an irregular and inexplicable system of spelling—a system that is just now receiving the attention of our own reformers.

Germans are accustomed to speak of the English language as "a monster having two mouths, with one of which it speaks German and with the other Latin."

The Slavonic peoples of central and western Europe, who by reason of the fact that they have been compelled to learn many languages, and are therefore great linguists, have a legend to account for the inconsistencies of English which is yet more uncomplicated than the German animadversion against our mother tongue.

This legend is to the effect that when the Almighty created the nations he gave men no tongues at all. When they came and dumbly begged for them, he compassionately took a piece of meat and cut it into slices, giving each one a slice to serve as a tongue.

This arrangement served well enough but, when the Englishman, who had either lazily or contemptuously failed to arrive sooner, came and demanded his piece, there was none left. Accordingly the Deity called back the men of other nations, and slicing from each of their tongues a little bit, he put them all together to make a tongue for the Englishman. And this is why the English continue to the present day to speak in such a jumble.

Students have averred that this story, originally heard in Croatia, is so close a representation in allegory of the actual facts in the origin of the English language, that it has a "made-up" air. It is, nevertheless, picturesque and interesting.

M., at the Court House door in Hartford, Ohio county, Kentucky, expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest, and costs), to-wit:

Beginning at a sweet gum marked as corner in R. N. Stroud's line; thence with his line N. 93 poles to a stone; thence E. 87 poles to a stone, corner of second parcel or lot No. 3; thence S. 9 1-2 W. 85 poles to a stone in public road; then with said road 82 1-2 W. 68 poles to the beginning, containing 44 acres more or less. Levied upon as the property of Manuel Ward.

TERMS:—Sale will be made on a credit of 6 months, bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from day of sale, and having the force and effect of a sale bond.

Witness my hand, this 1st day of May, 1907.

PLEA OF DYING INDIAN CHIEF.

Red Cloud's Farewell Message Urges Whites to Aid Red-Skins.

Realizing that the time of his departure for the happy hunting grounds is approaching, old Red Cloud, famous Chief of the Sioux Indians, has issued a farewell message that is full of pathetic appeal to the white people to be good to the poor Indian.

The noted warrior long ago became peaceable. While he still wears his beads and feathers, he recognizes that the march of civilization is sweeping away many of the old customs of his race, and he bears, a most friendly feeling toward his former foes.

His letter is addressed to Colonel Wm. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), whom he addresses by the Indian name of Pe-Ha-Has-Ka. It was dictated in Red Cloud's tent and given to Bill McCune, Colonel Cody's representative, who left the agency a short time ago, taking with him a number of young Sioux to join the Wild West show for the coming season. The letter is as follows:

"Tell my friend Pe-Ha-Has-Ka that I am Red Cloud that talks to him by one of my people who knows white man pen sign. Will talk what I say to him with my tongue and send by paper. Old Ogallala Chief, last chief soldier of Sioux, talks from heart to the White Eagle of Great Father's warriors. I want him to tell old chief soon to go to Manitou hunting ground—never see Pe-Ha-Has-Ka more. I say we light—men smoke pipe—shake hands—bury the hatchet—live same tepee. My people follow white man's road. You always good after fight to red brother. I my young men heap big village; heap speak to you to be always friend to my people. You good; you show my young men heap big village, heap things I never see.

"Old Indian, more old than you, hope tell Great Father Washington and Great Father's Head Man take care my people. All want to be good I like you come. I no see you, but I could hear you talk. Shake hands make good-by friends, give theirs ears to Pe-Ha-Has-Ka, be friend to Sioux. White man rich, Indian poor. I talk you last time. Hear down, if black robe speak white man help Indian. I talk you last straight meet you in hunting grounds in sky. Tell Scarface, brother good-bye, too; Good man friend of Sioux last war Pine Ridge. "RED CLOUD (His X Mark.)"

Red Cloud is more than 90 years of age and totally blind.

To Tax Bachelors.

A tax on bachelors has been imposed by the lower house of the Hessian parliament. The bill, which came into force April 1, provides, in view of the prevailing dearthness of food, rent, etc., for an annual supplementary grant to be given to persons in the employ of the state whose incomes do not exceed $500 per annum. Bachelors who have only personal responsibilities are to receive only one-half the grant.

A clause in the original bill ordained that persons in the employ of the state who neither are nor have been married should receive only half this amount, but an amendment was passed granting the full sum to bachelor employees who maintain a home for parents, relatives or adopted children.

A Home For Tramp Cats.

In Los Angeles, California, there is a cat club, each member of which belongs to what is known as the "Southern California National Cat Club." The general purpose of this organization is to protect these useful household animals and to secure and perpetuate the best feline breeds. This club was organized several years ago, and annually there has been a general public exhibition held in Los Angeles that has never yet failed to attract much attention, especially among ladies. In fact, a large proportion of the many members of the club are women.

Recently the club has widened its sphere of usefulness, and will erect soon a cat hospital and a "home of refuge" for the sick and houseless animals. That city is overrun by "tramp cats"—houseless and homeless Tabbies and Thomases that utter pitiful yowls and touching meows in the dull ear of night all about the city. Mr. E. H. Rydall, of Los Angeles, a benevolently disposed gentleman and a prominent member of the Cat Club, has donated a small piece of land and also subscribed a sum of money as a starter. Subscriptions have been steadily pouring in from club members and others. The hospital and home are now assured. A suitable building is now being built that, when completed, will comfortably house a large number of these feline waifs. The "patients" and refugees will be doctored, fed, and sheltered until homes are provided or found. It will be conducted somewhat on the plan of an orphanage and foundling hospital. The club members are quite enthusiastic over this humane project. The wandering, forsaken, and half-starved cats of Los Angeles will hereafter have comfortable quarters—food, shelter, a medical attendance—without money and without price.

A Handy Tree.

Did you ever hear of the thread-and-needle tree? Rather a handy tree to have growing in the back yard don't you think, especially when there are boys in the house, with buttons coming off about every other minute?

This strange tree grows in nearly all tropical countries, and in some places nearer home, where the climate is warm and even.

In Mexico, says the New York Examiner, it is found in great numbers, and the Mexicans call it the "maguay," which is pronounced "magway." It gets the name by which we know it from the curious formation of its leaves. At the tip of the leaf there is a sharp thorn, which is the needle. If you grasp it firmly and pull it out, a long thread or fiber comes with it, and there you are—with a needle all ready threaded for your sewing.

This fiber thread is very strong, and the Mexicans use it for weaving a coarse kind of cloth as well as for sewing. The leaves of the tree they use for roofing their houses, instead of tiles, and a fine roof they make with them, strong and waterproof—just the sort of roof that is needed in a country where the rain pours down in sheets.

The Fashions as Predicted for the Summer.

June being the traditional bridal month, the usual fashion article in this number of the New Idea Woman's Magazine is devoted to the bride and her attendants. New materials for the wedding gown, and graceful drawings showing the latest ways of making the same are given as well as suggestions for the bridesmaids and maids of honor. The Girl's Letter contains many valuable hints for the selection of a trousseau and will undoubtedly prove helpful to the girl with moderate means who wishes to spend sensibly her allowance for this purpose. Ideas for bridal luncheons and anniversary dinners also appear in this issue. Another illustrated fashion article is devoted to the discussion of jumper fashions, which will, without doubt, occupy the most important place in summer wardrobes.

Keep The Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hall's for appetite, strength and endurance.

Lead Pencil Breaks Rib.

At Hopkinsville, Ky., Prof. H. Clay Smith, principal of the girls' department of South Kentucky college, is suffering from a fractured rib, as a result of an unusual accident. While Prof. Smith was sitting in an armchair a letter he was holding fell to the floor. He leaned over to pick up the letter and the arm of the chair pressed a lead pencil in his pocket against one of his ribs with sufficient force to break the bone.

Daniel Boone Was in This Region

D. W. Whitmer, of Muhlenberg county, called at the Hustler office Thursday and brought with him a rock on which is cut the following: A five pointed star and the name "Daniel Boone, May 22, 1772." The rock is about 8x12 inches in size.

Mr. Whitmer says that about two years ago he was clearing new ground about a mile on the other side of Pond River, and in destroying a beech tree, he found this rock imbedded between two roots.—Madisonville Hustler.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol For Dyspepsia

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUBER, Nevada, O.

We are authorized to announce S. A. ANDERSON, of West Hartford Precinct, a candidate or Representative in the General Assembly from the 26th district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce DR. JAMES A. DUFF, of Sulphur Springs Precinct, a candidate to represent Ohio county, in the next House of Representative. Subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce W. W. PARK of the Beda Precinct, a candidate for Representative in the General Assembly from this, the 30th district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE D. BAKER RHODES, of Beaver Dam, as a candidate to represent Ohio county in the next House of Representative, subject to the action of the Republican party to be held June 5th, and 15th, next.

Examine the label on your paper, if it is not correct notify us.

It is not the eagle which rivets the attention of all Spain just now. It is the stork.

The peace convention should adjourn to Jamestown, and capture those battleships.

Now it is said the tombstone trust has raised prices. Is there no escape, even in death?

Liquor advocates no doubt found the appellate Court's decision sustaining the county unit law pretty dry reading.

Whether the President is in Ohio politics, or Secretary Taft out of it, seems to be the all absorbing question.

We know of no rule, or statute which limits the Republican party to the State of Ohio for a candidate for President, anyway.

The Chicago Record-Herald says Vice-President Fairbanks' father was a wagon maker. The son is an expert at fence making.

In turning out Congressman Brownlow's friend in Tennessee, is the President serving notice to the others to get on the right side?

To most persons, who were foolish enough to bet on the Kentucky Derby Monday, the colors which radiated were not confined to "Pink Star."

Col. Henry Waterson and John L. Sullivan have endorsed Gov. Hughes for the Presidency. The Governor should have no trouble in winning, now.

Should Bryan agree to nominate the President for another term, as has been suggested, would he make as strong nominating speech as he once did for himself?

Why not have an organization of the people whom President Roosevelt has characterized as "undersirable citizens." They might sympathize with each other.

We are indeed getting on strange ground, politically, when Democrats declare themselves Lincoln Democrats, while Republicans announce themselves Jeffersonian Republicans.

The nomination of Bryan for President, by the Democracy, seems to be a foregone conclusion, but who can guess in all the range of possibilities, what will be in the platform?

Notable exchanges are devoting considerable space to the subject of dustless roads. The people of this vicinity are at present more interested in some means of producing mudless roads.

Some tax payer should file suit at Frankfort to determine whether or not Auditor Hager has authority for paying Judge Cantrill a salary out of the State funds which he does not pretend to earn.

After the election of a Governor in Kentucky this fall, who knows but what the eyes of Republicans all over the country may be turned our way for a Presidential candidate? Stranger things have happened.

Spot the Republican or Independent who fires his gun prematurely within our own ranks, this year. He is either bent on doing harm to the cause he pretends to espouse, or is entirely too raw to be entrusted with modern fire arms. Better send him to the rear with the teamsters.

The Louisville Herald has sounded almost all the leading Republicans of the State and finds them without exception opposed to any attempt to draw the coming State Convention into turmoil by going into the Presidential contest. This paper has taken the same stand for months. No sensible Republican, who desires party success in Kentucky this year, could take any other.

According to Henry Watterson, the only hope of Democratic success in the Presidential race next year lies in the following contingencies: "If Roosevelt should be nominated for a third term; if there should be a financial crisis,—or a failure of crops, or such a redundancy of crops as seriously to fetch down the price of farm products. The first contingency has been swept away by the President himself. The second is not likely to occur with the Republicans in power. Financial panics in this country have always been linked with Democratic administrations. So the chance would seem to be reduced to too much crop, or a failure altogether. The former condition will be looked after by the farmers themselves, and we have too much faith in the Supreme Ruler to believe he will permit the latter, if it is to be followed by a worse calamity."

FINALLY AGREED.

The Hartford Herald and this paper, after spending about twenty years in contending over every conceivable question from Protection and Free Trade down to "Who Struck Billy Patterson," have finally come together upon the following agreed statement of facts, submitted by the Herald:

"Meantime, while the Herald and The Hartford Republican are discussing whether their headings and make-up are alike or not alike, we think that the public will agree with both of us that Hartford has two of the best county weeklies published anywhere in Kentucky or the South."

Notice.

To Miners and Farmers. We ask of you not to buy wagons or buggies from the Hickman-Elliott company, of Owensboro, Ky., until they recognize the union and employ union men.

Cleveland's Bad Advice.

Mr. Cleveland clings to his idea that the Tariff makes trusts, and he insists that the evils which have led up to the present revulsion of feeling against corporations were brought about by the Tariff. Strange, then, that they did not appear with the Wilson bill. That measure closed the shops and mills and put 3,000,000 idle men on the streets, but the corruption of insurance companies, railroad discriminations and all manner of corporate abuses went on right through the last four years of Grover, without regard to Tariff conditions. It is doubtless true that Tariff reform which would ignore the principle of Protection, as he Wilson bill did in parts, would destroy some of the trusts, for it was pretty well demonstrated that neither the independent manufacturers nor any combination of industries could so much as keep the mills going on starvation wages during the second Cleveland administration. That administration effectually halted industry, but it did not check the scandalous wrongs leading up to the existing "popular clamor" which Mr. Cleveland now deplores. If it had Mr. Cleveland would not today be the arbiter of the great insurance trust, drawing a generous salary for making appeals to legislatures and to allay an aroused public sentiment.—Pittsburgh "Gazette-Times."

Horses With Sweet Teeth Head. Ted, a big bay horse owned by John Riley, of Belleville, N. J., followed a son of the owner into a confectionary store of Martin Flannagan yesterday.

The proprietor was in the rear room. Hearing a noise behind him, he turned and was surprised to see Ted busily engaged in eating sweets from the top of a candy case. Riley was afraid to yell at the animal for fear he might stampede and do some damage.

Ted was in his glory. Imitation rabbits, chickens and other things disappeared with lightning-like rapidity down the horses capacious throat.

It was not until Ted's appetite for sweets had been entirely appeased that he left the store. Then he walked down to the village watering trough and took a long drink to wash down the candy.—New York American.

Not Always.

To buy where you sell is a standard Free-Trade axiom. Protection is much censured in some quarters for ignoring this altruistic doctrine. But here we find Free-Trade Great Britain the greatest offenders in that regard. In 1905 she sold to Cuba more than ten times as much as she bought from Cuba. Her exports to that island were $9,813,995, and her imports $814,915. On the other hand, the United States buys from Cuba more than double what she sells to Cuba. In 1905 we bought Cuban commodities valued at $95,857,856, and sold to Cuba of our products $44,569,812. We furnished Cuba the money with which to buy of Great Britain ten times what she sold to that country. Apparently Free-Trade is not always fair trade.

Among The Lodges.

Miss Sue Yeiser is representing Sun Shine Hive, of the lady Maccabees, at the State Convention this week.

The Red Men had a very interesting meeting Wednesday night. Brothers Mitchell Smith and Dick Her, of Kentucky Tribe, were present and gave some excellent talks and suggestions. Two applications for membership were received. The Ohio Tribe is doing good work and they hope to have an excellent lodge.

Rough River No. 110 K. of P. had one of the best sessions, Tuesday night, in the history of the lodge. Work in the second rank was conferred in a splendid manner by Past Chancellor, W. S. Tinsley. More than thirty members and visitors were in attendance. All the representatives from this lodge to the Convention at Central City report a good time. There will be work next Tuesday night in the first and third ranks.

Hartford No. 675 F. & A. M., held a session beginning at 3 P. M., Monday and lasting until 11 P. M., during which an immense amount of work was disposed of and four candidates were elected for initiation. Three were given the Entered Apprentice degree and one the Master Mason degree. The Junior Warden, Senior Warden and Master each conferred a degree in the Entered Apprentice. Quite a number of visitors were present from sister lodges to see the work. A call meeting will be held next Monday night for work in the Fellow Craft degree and to hear report from the building committee. Every member is urged to be present.

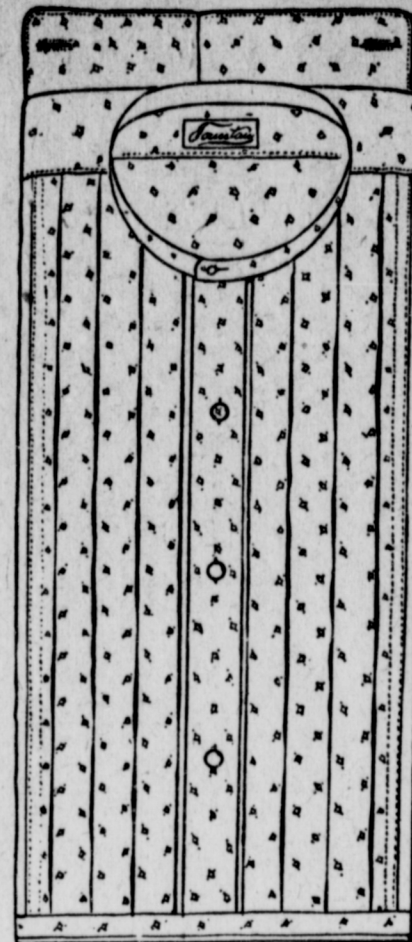

The Fifth Pythian district of Kentucky held its district meeting at Central City, Ky., May 6, 1907. The following lodges were represented: Rough River lodge, Hartford, Ky.; Star lodge, Owensboro, Ky.; Eclipse lodge, of Livermore, Ky.; Independence lodge, of Cloverport, Ky.; Damon lodge, of Leitchfield, Ky.; and Calanthe lodge, Central City, Ky., were represented by members and delegates.

The district meeting was entertained by the members of the Central City lodge. In the afternoon session much was brought up showing the progress and development of the various lodges and the prosperous conditions of the order in this district. G. C. McLean, G. K. of R. and S. Chapter G. M. and A. Saunders were present, and conducted the meeting in a very able manner. They complimented the various lodges on their progress and prosperity of the order.

At 7:30 the wives, mothers and daughters of Calanthe lodge invited the members of the district convention to a banquet spread at the Masonic Hall; the Banquet Hall was decorated with the lodge colors and

LOOK, READ AND REMEMBER

That what we are about to say to you we do not say boastfully, but we believe it and would be glad to show you why we believe it if you will come to our store.

Cluett-Peabody Coat Shirts and you will see why we say it. They are all new patterns. We also have the old reliable brand of Cluett-Peabody Collars.

Now, we cannot enumerate the many good things we have, but will tell you what to do—just come and let us show you through our stock, and see if you do not say our goods and prices are right. Our motto is to sell goods cheap and plenty of them. Call and see our line—many articles of splendid value which we have not space to mention.

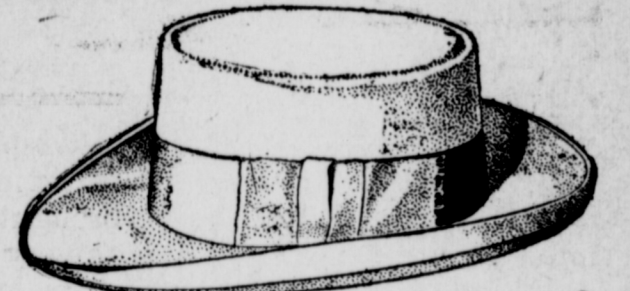

Yours for cheap prices and courteous treatment,
BARNARD & CO., - Hartford, Kentucky.

The first point we want to make is this, that we have the newest, cleanest and most all-around, up-to-date stock of goods in Hartford. Our reason why: Because it is all right from the factory and therefore is bound to be of the very latest patterns.

Now, ladies, let us whisper something in your ear. We have the prettiest and cheapest line of Spring Dress Goods in town. It is all composed of new patterns, and when you wear it, you may rest assured that no one else wore anything like it last year—for it is all right from the market.

FOR MEN.

We have a new line of the latest and most stylish patterns of the Swan Hat, which is one of the best Hats made. Shirts? Who said Shirts? We did. Come and let us show you through our line of Fountain and was arranged with a taste and elegance equal to any ever seen in Kentucky, and the tables were loaded with the best of all those things that make the mouths of the Knights of Pythias water. The occasion was enlivened by some excellent music and the response of Grand Chancellor McLean and others to the toasts prepared by that Prince of Toast Masters and good fellows the Rev. W. B. Wright. Rough River lodge was represented by Knights Ernest Woodward J. C. Her, J. T. Sanderfur and John B. Wilson, who report a splendid time and are very lavish in their praise of Calanthe lodge's way of entertaining and putting on degree work.

Both for Protection and Revenue.

Tariff reformers insist that the purpose of the existing Tariff is not revenue merely, but Protection. The Protectionists, of course, gladly concede this. The revisionists further say that the rates are much higher than any reasonable degree of Protection requires that the revenue produced is abnormally large. They fail to demonstrate, however, that cutting the rates to a mere revenue basis and eliminating the element of Protection, would reduce the revenue. It would be far more likely to increase it, at least so long as people could buy foreign made articles cheaper than similar ones produced in home factories. Revision may be desirable for sundry reasons when the proper time comes to make it, but it is safe to predict that when it is undergone the principle of Protection will be kept in mind.

PALO.

May 6.—As I have not seen anything in your paper from this part of the county for some time, I thought I would write a few lines.

Bonaparte May Leave Cabinet.

Washington, May 7.—Information comes from high sources that Attorney General Bonaparte is contemplating retirement from the cabinet. It is said that he is in bad health and that there are grave fears that he is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. The Attorney General is greatly pleased with his position, but fears that the strain under which he has been working is too much for him.

We call attention to the announcement of Judge D. Baker Rhoads, of Beaver Dam, in another column, as a candidate for Representative. Judge Rhoads is a young man of splendid ability and equipment for the position. He is a good lawyer and at present Police Judge of Beaver Dam. His quiet gentlemanly bearing makes him a general favorite with men of all classes. He has always been a loyal Republican and ready to do his part to advance the cause.

Mr. James H. Thomas, East Hartford, made us a pleasant call while in town Tuesday. He informed us that he and Mr. C. M. Taylor, of Beaver Dam, will shortly begin the erection of ten dwelling houses on their lots in East Hartford addition. This is very much needed, as it is impossible for persons to rent homes here. Scarcely a day passes that some one seeking a home in our town is not turned away, because there are no houses to be had. We hope others who own vacant lots will follow the example of Messrs Taylor and Thomas.

At the school trustee election, held at the College last Saturday, W. S. Tinsley was elected, receiving every vote cast, an unusual distinction. The Board met at the office of Chairman J. S. Glenn Saturday evening and finished the work of selecting teachers for the coming year. Misses Lillian Monroe and Mattie Moseley and Mrs. Julia Wedding were re-elected to the positions they now hold. The position which has been held by Mrs. Lucy T. Cooper for several years, was given to Prof. Alexander E. Ellis. Mrs. Cooper did not apply for retention. Prof. Ellis is now visiting his sister in Colorado, but it is understood he will soon return to canvass for the school during the summer. The Board of Education feels that a strong corps of teachers will be in charge of Hartford College.

The Ladies Social Club was entertained by Mrs. W. S. Tinsley and Misses Sophia and Carrie Woerner last Wednesday afternoon. The entertainment was given at the home of the Misses Woerners and was a very delightful one. The parlors were beautifully and tastefully decorated with cut flowers. Seven games of progressive flinch were played after which there was a charming flower puzzle. An elaborate lunch was served and beautiful pink carnations were the favors. The guests of honor were Mrs. Claude Smith, Mrs. Isaac Foster, Mrs. Will Newbolt, Misses Margaret Nail, Lillian Monroe, Zella Nail, Mary Smith and Lula Walker. Other ladies present were: Mesdames E. Dr. J. A. Duff was through our vicinity last week to look over his prospects for nomination as candidate for Representative.

Dr. Warner, of Brooklyn, Butler county, has rented property at Arnold and is going to move in soon.

Why can't The Republican reach Arnold before Monday? is the question with all subscribers here. Something must be wrong.

The College Idea in Clothes

The "FRAT" is the most stylish cut suit we've ever offered. It makes the tailors jealous because it's a snappy style that they haven't got onto yet.

The cut shows one of the many "FRAT" styles we have for you to choose from.

It's a three-button sack, medium lapel, made in blue and black serges and worsteds in sizes to fit young men correctly.

The material is honest, the tailoring perfect; the style is distinctly new and the price is only $15.00.

Call and see the suit for yourself and you'll appreciate the big value.

F. D. BAUGHN, Hartford, Ky.

BLOOMER GIRLS.

The Boston Bloomers, ladies champion base ball club, will play a team from Co. H, May 18, at the Ohio County Fair Grounds. This will be a most interesting and exciting contest and it is predicted that the Boston Bloomers will have the largest attendance ever seen at a ball game in this city. The Boston Bloomers comprise a team of ladies' athletes who know how to play base ball and are perfect ladies in every respect. This will be the event of the season and our local base ball management should be congratulated on securing such a truly novel attraction. Admission 25 cents. Grand stand extra.

This will be a most interesting and exciting contest and it is predicted that the Boston Bloomers will have the largest attendance ever seen at a ball game in this city. The Boston Bloomers comprise a team of ladies' athletes who know how to play base ball and are perfect ladies in every respect. This will be the event of the season and our local base ball management should be congratulated on securing such a truly novel attraction. Admission 25 cents. Grand stand extra.

The cut shows one of the many "FRAT" styles we have for you to choose from.

It's a three-button sack, medium lapel, made in blue and black serges and worsteds in sizes to fit young men correctly.

The material is honest, the tailoring perfect; the style is distinctly new and the price is only $15.00.

Call and see the suit for yourself and you'll appreciate the big value.

1908 TALK WILL ONLY HURT PARTY.

Picking Presidential Candidates Now Foolish.

Dangerous for Republican Chances And All Should Unite on the Immediate Issue.

Augustus E. Wilson, the prominent-ly mentioned candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, recently wrote the following statement for the Herald:

"The editorial in the Post properly puts me in the list of Republicans who have declared themselves 'on the side' of President Roosevelt, if there be any occasion to take sides, of which I am not convinced. And the article does not say that I have declared for Judge Taft, but that nine-tenths of those named have done so.

"I earnestly endorse Judge Fulkner's position that it can do no possible good and may possibly do great harm to bring up the question of our choice for President or Senator this year, or to cross the bridges of 1908 before we come to them. If the discussion over either question be taken up with any serious purpose, it will result in strenuous differences which, as far as they have any effect, endanger loss of votes to us, when one of the parties might not be living next year, and many other things could happen which would make the discussion and all its antagonisms incurred in vain.

"This convention, like all others, has jurisdiction to commend Republican administrations and officials, but it has no call nor power to bind the Republican party, nor next year's convention, nor the next Legislature.

"This is no new political move. In 1895, when the Republican State convention nominated Gov. Bradley, a resolution was prepared endorsing me for Senator, which would have passed without opposition at that time, but it was my opinion then, as now, that the action would not be binding, that it might possibly lessen the efforts of the State ticket, and on my insistence it was withheld.

"We Kentuckians take politics so seriously in some ways and get so warm over some matters not yet ready for a vote, that either the favorite for President or Senator might excite heated discussion which might, in time, endanger or hurt our chance in some legislative district, and thus destroy the possibility of electing a Senator, or what is even more important, doing any good in the Legislative work.

"For the outset this year, in all my letters to and talks with fellow Republicans, I have earnestly advised against taking up the Presidential or senatorial questions this year, and I make a most earnest appeal to all Republicans and all who wish a change in Kentucky conditions to give all our faith, work and hope to the battle for the State in November, and to resolve that there shall be no division or discussion that we can help but that with all our might we will work to relieve our own State of her weight of woe by smashing the organization which wrongs the people, and electing a State ticket, and, if we possibly can, a Legislature pledged to a change for the better.

"We can win both and make the Republican party so useful to the State that it will deserve and win good will of all the people. Let us avoid all dissensions. Let us cross the bridges of 1908, when we come to them, and let us all for the present restrict the June convention to the measures for which it is called, and the proper approval of our Republican President, though I have not seen any call or need from him for a vote of confidence, which is usual and proper, but, of course, not needed.

"To attempt to force an expression on these questions now will hurt those for whom it is attempted, hurt Republican chances for usefulness in Kentucky, tend to divide those now shoulder to shoulder, chill the very exceptional condition of agreement which is so encouraging; destroy every vestige of hope of a Republican Senator to succeed Senator McCreary, and tend to a frost for premature Presidential booms.

"How can we hope or deserve the confidence of the State if we show lack of wisdom and self-control, and risk the loss of the State ticket, the Legislature, the Senator and electoral vote, and, above all, risk the loss of all hope of relief to the State from the present intolerable conditions in dissensions in 1907, as to who shall be our choice for Senator when the choice cannot be made until 1908, and risk the loss of the electoral vote in 1908, in an absolutely futile discussion in 1907 of our respective private, personal, unofficial choice for President, when our personal favorite may be dead or unavailable next year?"

Waterson on Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt has broken all the records. Tyler, Fillmore, Johnson and Arthur long ago paled their ineffectual fires before him. He is a law unto himself. Nothing seems to freeze him. Doing wrong things outright, or good things in the wrong way—backing and filling as the case requires—making issue of veracity with the proof against him—choleric in method, cynical in action—by turns a daring temporizer and a rash assailant—a practical politician among the most practical politicians, a reformer among purists—inconsistent as a conservative, illogical as a radical—there still exists in the popular mind a fixed belief in his essential virtue; in his good intentions, his integrity and his courage. His enemies would agree that if you offered him a bribe, he would knock you down. The good in bad men, the bad in good men, are sometimes denied; but there is a man who gets credit for good and bad alike, and there is nothing so successful as success.

Yet, nevertheless and notwithstanding, the President is going to find Jordan a hard road to travel, and, in the end, if he is able to keep his party together an issue from the tray drums beating and flag flying, he will be fortunate indeed, because he can no more divert the Republican party from its nature, kill in it the reason of its being, than he can out-Bryan in the estimation of the Democrats.

LOVEMAKING WAS ENJOINED BY COURT.

Rejected Suitor Forbidden to Speak to His Ex-Sweetheart as She Passes by.

Des Moines, May 3.—Cupid's ambitions have received a fearful jolt with the granting of an injunction to pretty Katherine Homan, restraining her former fiance, James Payton, a young business man from making further protestations of love to her.

Not only has the court frowned on Payton making love in the future to Miss Homan, but Judge Howe, before whom an application for an injunction was heard, personally warned Payton against waiting for her on street corners, speaking to her in public and otherwise annoying her in the manner she described.

Miss Homan and Payton were playmates and were engaged for several years. Finally Miss Homan decided to break the engagement and informed Payton to that effect. But he refused to listen to this course and insisted on their old friendly relations of accompanying her home from work meeting her at lunch hour and otherwise being as attentive as a fiance should.

Shortly after breaking the engagement, Miss Homan met Payton while walking with another young man. Payton knocked the young man down. Miss Homan became desperate and appealed to the district court. Payton declares that Miss Homan broke the engagement only because her parents objected to him, and he characterized her recent action as "a bluff." He says she accepted a $250 diamond ring since then. He also introduced a note in which he says she addressed him as "Dear Jim," and told him to "cheer up, as things would be brighter, after a while."

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TO KILL CHARTER OF OKLAHOMA.

Gerrymander Puts State in Control of Democrats.

President Would Refuse to Approve the Constitution and Ratification is Deferred.

Persons who have talked with President Roosevelt in the last few days are strongly of the opinion that there will be no election in Oklahoma as planned for the ratification of the constitution recently adopted by the constitutional convention. In addition to the socialistic and populist features of the document, it is understood that more recently it has come to the attention of the President that one of the most flagrant gerrymanders ever attempted by a political party, has been embodied in the constitution by the Democratic members of the convention.

Not only does it make it practically impossible for the Republicans to elect a single member of the house of representatives out of the five to which the new State would be entitled, but it also fixes the line of the political districts, both for the national and State elections, in such way that it is impossible to change them except through a constitutional amendment.

In the older States it is only necessary to have a legislative enactment as conditions change and the population shifts or increases. In Oklahoma, if the new constitution is approved, it will take all the machinery and two-thirds requirements that are involved in a constitutional change.

The President has been told that if the increase in the Republican ranks in Oklahoma in the next two decades should prove to be in the ratio of 200 to 1 Democrat, there would be no opportunity of changing the Democratic complexion of the gerrymandered State which disregards the usual considerations of population, political divisions or the outlines of incorporated cities or towns.

While this fact alone might not be cited by the President as reasons sufficient for rejecting the new constitution, few doubt but that it will be sufficient in the mind of the President for him to convey an informal hint that it will be useless for an election to be held to ratify such a document, as he will withhold his approval when it is formally brought to him.

While the President realizes that it would be contrary to precedent for him to formally pass upon the constitution before it is acted upon by the people of the territory, yet the President is bound but little by the fetters of precedent. He prefers to use ordinary common sense. This tells him that if he can discover insurmountable obstacles to acceptance of the constitution by him it is absolutely useless, if not nonsensical, for the people of the territory to go ahead with the expense of holding an election.

The Democrats are making strong efforts to assure themselves the five new members of the house and to have the new State legislature, which they hope to see organized under the new constitution, composed of a majority of men of that party.

W. H. S. Wood, Howell, Mich., lawyer farmer, former superintendent of the State Reform School and Democratic candidate for Congress some years ago, has "sprung a new one." He wants Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, made President of the United States. He writes the following letter to the Journal:

"Editor of the Journal: The greatest and grandest American, whose brain is the climax of strength, sobriety and sense, in these times of dementia spectacular; the purest and truest man since Lincoln, who towers far above all contemporaries; the man whose opinions, which have not prevailed, have at once announced him the best conservative and the completest radical, the safest and sanest man of his time; the man who stands to-day for all that Americans have of pride in the past and all that Americans or the world have of hope in the future; the man who, though past three score and ten, is just in the prime of his usefulness; the man who, though masked as a Republican, is the greatest Democrat; the man who can save the country in its present hour of peril, aye, great peril; the man whose principles relating to great issues, Roosevelt and Bryan have both in part adopted and which are so cosmopolitan and American alike that they could demand and command all of the followers of Jeffersonian ideals, Jacksonian intensity, Lincolnian incorruptibility; the man whom Cleveland could support, Bryan would support, and Roosevelt should support; that man who is necessary to-day to save civil and constitutional liberty in America and the world, and who should be nominated and elected next President in this hour of crisis by the unanimous voice of all well-informed and right-thinking people in the United States, regardless of past party affiliations—I refer to the greatest Judge since Marshall, the truest constitutionalist since Webster the calmest refuge in all the stormy weather of the last decade, the one safe pilot, John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court.

MEASURING THE SUN'S HEAT.

Apparatus So Large It Occupies a Whole Building.

The instrument in the observatory on Mount Whitney, by which the variations of the sun's heat are measured, might be called an electrical thermometer, says the Reader. It is an apparatus so large as to occupy a building of considerable size; yet the essential part of its mechanism, which makes the record, is a fine thread of platinum, connected electrically with a balance of marvelous delicacy. The beam of the balance is a filament of spun glass 5 inches long and less in diameter than a hair, in the middle of which is a concave mirror as big as a large pinhead. This mirror (which weighs 2 1/2 milligrammes—about as much as the hind leg of a fly) is fastened upon a square piece cut from a dragon-fly's wing, and the whole affair is suspended from a fiber of spun quartz crystal 2 feet long and one five-thousandth of an inch thick.

Outside of the building is a queer-looking machine provided with a large circular mirror, which is controlled by clockwork in such a way as to face the sun at all hours, and to throw a reflected beam into the mouth of a great tube that enters the observatory. A single ray of the sunshine thus conveyed is permitted to fall upon the platinum thread, through which a current of electricity continually passes. It is well known that the electrical resistance of platinum varies with its temperatures; and so, by measuring the resistance of the thread, the heat of a sun's ray thrown upon it is determined. So accurate, in fact, is the determination that a variation of one millionth of a degree Fahrenheit can be distinguished.

Change in the temperature of the platinum thread cause the wonderful little balance to sway, while another ray of light, allowed to fall upon its tiny concave mirror is reflected upon a measuring scale. Thus, as the dot of reflected light runs along the scale, one may observe with the eye the variations in the amount of heat conveyed by the sunbeam, which comes through the tube from outside the building. When desired, however, the measuring scale is replaced by a slowly-traveling photographic film, which makes a permanent record of the fluctuations of the solar temperature, convenient for printing, filing and subsequent reference.

A Kiss no Good.

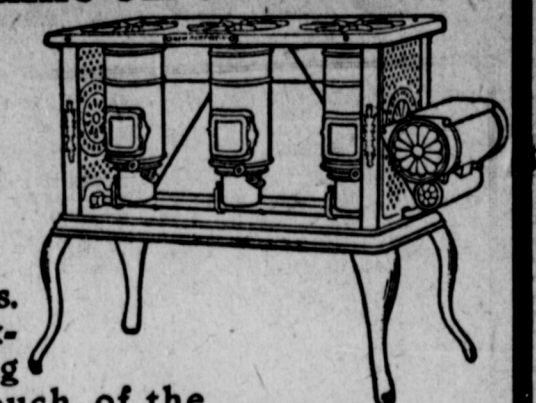

A kiss given in settlement of a debt for $110 is not a legal satisfaction of the claim, according to a decision rendered in the District Court of Nebraska recently.

Mrs. Boltz, a prepossessing widow of mature years, was sued by Nicholas Pries, and the defendant admitted the loan was made a year ago. When she was ready to repay it, according to her statement, the plaintiff said to her: "O never mind about that; just give me a kiss and that will settle it." The kiss was given, she avers, and she insists that she gave it in the belief and understanding that the debt was discharged. She borrowed another $250, which she paid in cash.

The court decided in favor of the creditor, suggesting that he should

At a meeting of the Seventh Senatorial district, held this day, in pursuance to a call issued by M. S. Ragland Chairman for the Ohio county Executive Committee. A majority of said committee being present personally or by proxy.

After object of meeting having been stated by Chairman, it was ordered that a Delegate Convention, composed of delegates from the three counties aforesaid, be held in Beaver Dam, on June 18th, 1907, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator, in the next General Assembly, from this the Seventh Senatorial District, to be voted for at the November election, 1907.

It was ordered that County Delegate Conventions be held to select delegates to the Senatorial Convention, and that said County Delegate Conventions be held on Saturday, June 15th, 1907, at 2: p. m. in each of the county-seat towns of the three counties composing this Senatorial district.

It was ordered that Precinct Mass Conventions be held to select delegates to the County Delegate Conventions, and that said Precinct Mass Conventions be held on Saturday, June 8th, 1907, at 2 p. m., standard time, in each voting precinct, of each, of the three counties.

It was ordered that the basis of representation in the Senatorial Convention be at one delegate for each one hundred (100), or fraction over fifty votes cast for the Republican electors at the Presidential election of 1904.

It was ordered that the basis of representation in the County Delegate Convention be fixed at one delegate for each twenty-five (25), or fraction over twelve (12), votes cast for the Republican electors at the Presidential election of 1904.

Can't Miss It

So many ailments are purely nervous affections, that you can hardly miss it if you try Dr. Miles' Nerve. It restores nervous energy—and through its invigorating influence upon the nervous system, the organs are strengthened. The heart action is better; digestion improved, the sluggish condition overcome, and healthy activity re-established.

"Dr. Miles' Nerve is worth its weight in gold to me. I did not know what ailed me. I had a good physician, but got no relief. I could not eat, sleep, work, sit or stand. I was nearly crazy. One day I picked up a paper and the first thing that met my eyes was an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Nerve. I concluded to try it and let the doctor go, and I did so. After taking two bottles I could dress myself. Then I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I can work and go out, and feel from these remedies and several of them have been cured by it since. I am fifty-nine years old and pretty good yet."

COUNTY UNIT LAW CONSTITUTIONAL

Passed Upon by The Court of Appeals.

Long Expected Opinion Was Written by Judge Hobson With Whole Court Concurring.

The county unit law is constitutional. This is the decision of the court of appeals in cases taken up from the Woodford circuit court. The act in its entirety, is held to be in conformity with the spirit of the constitutional enactments on the subject of prohibition, and to be in full force and effect.

In addition to holding the act constitutional, the appellate court construes it in all of its phrases and effects. This has been regarded as, probably, the most ambiguous law recently enacted by the legislature. This defect will, to a large extent, be cured by the construction put upon it by the appellate court.

The opinion, delivered by Judge Hobson, the whole court concurring, is as follows:

At the time the constitution was adopted prohibition prevailed in a number of counties and towns of the state by virtue of special laws previously enacted by the legislature. Section 61 of the constitution, which required the legislature to provide by general law for local option elections, was careful to say that the previous special statutes for certain localities were not repealed by that section. At those special statutes provided prohibition in the localities specified.

The purpose of the convention is shown by this action to have been not inimicable to local prohibition, but rather in its favor.

Our construction is, in view of these conditions and the language used, that the constitution meant that the local units named should control within their own territory the question of prohibition; that each should have the privilege of saying exclusively that prohibition should prevail, but not conclusively that it should not. This construction harmonizes the section so as to allow all of it to stand, and to give equal force and power to each unit named.

If a precinct votes that prohibition shall prevail within its territory, it is not competent for any other unit to gainsay the matter. If, however, the precinct votes against prohibition, that leaves the question so far as it is concerned as it was before any vote was ever taken on it. But if the town or city which includes the precinct in question subsequently votes in favor of prohibition, the whole town or city thereby becomes dry. Or, if the county subsequently votes dry, the same result as to the county is attained.

But if the county or town votes wet and if the precinct has previously voted dry, the precinct controls for itself. Thus each unit for itself has the option of putting the prohibition law into effect within its territory. And no larger or smaller unit can prevent it. This is the only construction of the section that occurs to us or that has been pointed out that will allow equal and uncontrolled power to every one of the five units named in the section.

A fair construction of all opinions in connection with section 61 of the constitution is that the constitution meant to leave, and did leave, to the legislature the details of the law to be enacted to carry the provision of the constitution into effect. In view of the changing conditions of the future, the wisdom of the legislature could best determine when the conditions arose as to how often and in what rotation votes in the respective localities might be taken on the subject. It was therefore competent for the legislature to provide by general law for repealing or modifying the existing local laws continued in force by the constitution, and to allow it to be done by the vote of such locality as the legislature saw proper. The reason no subsequent election in any other unit could change the result in the given unit was that the statute withheld such effect. Nor are we now departing from anything actually decided in any previous case before this court.

The legislature has now for the first time enacted a law in which it does give a controlling vote to a locality—to each of the units named—in the event it votes for prohibition, over other units mentioned, which may not have voted, or may have voted previously against prohibition. The question is now raised and presented for decision for the first time, whether under section 61 of the constitution it has the power to make such discrimination. We answer that it has. It has it because it is not denied to it by the constitution, but, on the contrary, as there must otherwise be a conflict between some of the

DOCTORS' MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better. The cause of the wrong treatment, but probably worse, a proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in this condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve medicine "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neurasthenia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a day. Easy to take as candy.

UP IN THE AIR FOR THREE HOURS

Then Lands in Farmer's Cornfield Eight Miles From Starting Point.

A balloon trip of almost three hours' duration, devoid of exciting experiences or mishaps, was made at St. Louis last week by Aeronauts Alan R. Hawley and Leo Stevens, of New York, in the Orient, the same balloon in which Mr. Hawley made his trip alone to Carrollton, Ill., last Saturday.

The orient got a splendid start, rising straight up until a slow-moving northwesterly air current was encountered at an altitude of about 2,600 feet, carrying the balloon slowly over the city.

The two aeronauts were plainly visible and could be distinguished throwing out sand ballast in their efforts to rise higher and get above the low-hanging clouds.

Finally the balloon passed from view and late in the afternoon Mr. Hawley telephoned that they had landed in a corn field about eight miles northwest of St. Louis.

He stated that after passing through the clouds the warmth from the sun expanded the gas, and the balloon reached an altitude of a mile and three quarters.

After drifting slowly for almost 3 hours the aeronauts decided to land, they realized that they were making no headway in covering distance. No damage was done to the balloon in landing. The deflated balloon was shipped back to St. Louis and the aeronauts returned.

Mr. Stevens immediately proceeded to Washington, where he will ascend in a Government balloon and Mr. Hawley went to Hot Springs, Ark., to meet a party of friends.

Anxious Adventurers Wed.

After a courtship of several months conducted entirely by mail, Miss Theodosia Jones, of Fawn township, near York, Pa., and John F. Fryer, of Allegheny, were married at the home of the bride. Miss Jones is 52 years old and Fryer 47. Miss Jones had frequently advertised under the heading "Man Wanted," while Fryer had advertised for a wife.

PITIFUL CONDITION OF MINERS AT STURGIS

Depicted in an Open Letter Published in Farmers and Miners Advocate.

To those who do not understand:

For more than eighteen long months our fathers and hundreds of other fathers who live in the beautiful city of Sturgis have been out on a strike. During these long and trying months we have been living in hope of a better day. Our parents have cheered and comforted us by assuring us that some day we can enjoy the pleasures of days gone by.

When we speak of days gone by, we speak of happy days prior to September 27th, 1905. Of the days when our fathers were working in peace.

Of days when we could look out of our windows long before the sun had hid his shining face beneath the western horizon and see the smiling countenance of our fathers coming home to spend a few hours of the day with the ones they loved. Coming home happy in the thought that they had earned a fair wage for a fair day's work. During all these days of trials and hardship we have been wondering why the citizens and the officers of our country would allow us to be driven from our homes. We have been looking with astonishment upon a seemingly consciousness and indifferent public. While it may seem strange to many people to learn of two little girls taking part in an industrial conflict, yet we feel it our duty to let the world know that the great West Kentucky Coal Company is hurting us as well as our fathers. Before this great strike was declared our fathers were making plenty of money and we enjoyed the fruits of their prosperity.

If we wanted a new hat or dress or any the luxuries of life we knew that papa could get them. There was a time however, still fresh in our memory when our fathers were not so prosperous. There was a time when we did not enjoy the blessings of prosperity. There was a time when the miners of our town lived in poverty and misery. When the Coal Companies made us eke out a mere existence. We, though still in the tender years of life can well remember the days before our fathers joined the miners union. We have felt the pangs of poverty under non-union conditions as we have enjoyed the fruits of union labor. And God in heaven knows that we do not want our fathers to forsake their union. We do not want Mr. Butcher to drive us from our once happy homes; we do not want him to drive us from the city that we love. We have spent all our lives in dear old Union county. We love and cherish it with its scenes of early childhood. We love the dear old hills and the enchanted wood-lands that seem to hold us so lovingly and tenderly in their embrace. We love the sacred spot where brother and sister are sleeping.

But alas! it seems that we must be driven from them all. We have often heard Kentuckians praised for their chivalry, bravery and integrity, but we have almost come to the conclusion that they have taken a long step backward. Dear friends, you possibly do not understand what we helpless girls have been compelled to undergo since Mr. Butcher came to drive us from "Home Sweet Home." You can realize how our poor hearts ache when we look forward to the day when we must leave our homes forever. We pray God you may understand before it is too late and then we know that you will say to Mr. Butcher: You can not drive our daughter from their homes; you can no longer murder their parents. You can no longer enslave the citizens of our country.

May Eventually Realize it.

I long for gentle springtime, and breezes soft and mellow, I long to hear the bullfrog and listen to him bellow; I long to see the daisies peep from the mossy glen, I want to see the chickens play around the mother hen. I want to go a fishing and spit upon my bait, and stretch out in the sunshine on the creek bank while I wait. I long to see the red buds with scarlet banners hung, and smell the fragrant bluebells, while the robins feed their young. I want to pick sweet Williams and make whistles for the kids, and help them in the sandbank make their caves and pyramids. I want to help them make a swing and see the youngsters climb, and taste the joy that harbingers the good old summer time.

O, gentle Spring, you're here, by jing, with blossoms in your hair, with buds and bees and budding trees and flower scented air. The cackling hens, the nesting wrens, the little new-born calf, fill us with cheer, for Spring is here, just hear the meadows laugh. The old gray mare now sheds her hair and gets a taste of grass, and mothers make their young ones take tea made from sarsaparilla. The robins nest and go in quest of worms to feed their young, and signs prevail that never fail when Spring has really sprung.—Hillsboro News.

WHERE GYP WENT AND FOR WHAT

Journeyed 124 Miles in a Week to See Her Pup-pies.

Gyp, an 18-months-old fox terrier, belonging to Harry C. Fisher of No. 530 East Seventh street, south, has distinguished herself again, writes a Salt Lake City correspondent to the Boston Evening Globe.

While on a visit to Weston, Idaho, with her master during the last summer Gyp first attracted attention. Mr. Fisher stayed at a ranch owned by August Jensen. One day by barking and yelping and jumping in front of her master she aroused his curiosity. This done she led him to a litter of little blinking puppies. Gyp's family dwindled down to two before many weeks had passed. When Mr. Fisher was ready to come home Gyp had been with her little charges six weeks.

The time had now come to say good bye. Gyp was brought to Salt Lake and her puppies were kept at the Jensen ranch.

About four weeks ago Mr. Fisher missed Gyp. Believing she had gone but a short distance, he did not become worried until she had been away from home a whole day. The Fisher family grieved over their loss, thinking Gyp had been stolen or killed.

A happy thought struck Mr. Fisher two weeks ago. He dropped a post card to August Jensen, Weston, Idaho, and a few days later an answer was received.

The message brought the startling information that Gyp had reached the Jensen ranch ten days before.

"Her arrival was the occasion of great rejoicing in the kennel," read the note. "The two pups and Gyp barked and rolled each other around in great shape."

Gyp covered 124 miles in six or seven days to see her two babies.

How Sailors Read The Sky.

There is probably no class that can tell more as to what the weather will be from a glance at the sky than seafarers. This is the natural result of their constant observation of the heavens for the lack of something else to look at when at sea. Thus the sky becomes to the mariner an open book, which he reads by instinct as does a child the face of its parent.

A navigator will tell you that a rosy sunset presages fine weather; a sickly looking, greenish hue, wind and rain; a dark or Indian red, rain; a red sky in the morning, bad weather or much wind, perhaps rain; a gray sky in the morning, fine weather a high dawn, wind; a low dawn, fair weather. Remarkable clearness of atmosphere near the horizon, distinct objects, such as hills, usually visible or raised by refraction and what is called a good "hearing day," may be mentioned among signs of wet, if not wind.

A landsman is much more ignorant of the signs of the sky, as he has so many other things to distract his attention that he seldom takes much notice of its different phases, which foreshadow so clearly what may be expected in the way of weather. Then too, it doesn't matter so much to him, as he can readily find shelter from the elements, while the seafarer must combat them, and his preparation for certain weather conditions often means safety to his ship, himself and those who travel with him.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

AVOID ALUM

AN UNSEEN DANGER IN FOOD

TO GUARD SHIPS against the unseen dangers at sea, the United States Government maintains lighthouses.

To guard your home against the unseen dangers of food products, the Government has enacted a pure food law. The law compels the manufacturers of baking powder to print the ingredients on the label of each can.

The Government has made the label your protection—so that you can avoid alum—read it carefully, if it does not say pure cream of tartar, hand it back and!

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL is a pure cream of tartar baking powder—a pure product of grapes—adds the digestion—adds to the healthfulness of food.

ROUSTER SHOT ON STEAMER EVANSVILLE

Taken to Marine Hospital Where it is Said His Wounds Are Not Fatal.

Evansville, Ind., May 6.—Shot through the right side and right arm, John Harris, a negro roustabout on the steamer Evansville was taken to Marine hospital Saturday night when the boat reached the local port. Harris was shot early Saturday morning at Bowling Green, Ky., by another roustabout on the boat while he was unloading freight. Joe Barber, the man accused of doing the shooting, escaped.

The two negroes became involved in a quarrel while on the up trip from this city and when the boat reached Bowling Green, Barber is said to have gone up town and purchased a revolver with which he later returned to the boat and shot Harris.

At the hospital last night Harris was not thought to be in a dangerous condition.

PREACHER BECOMES CRAZY IN THE PULPIT.

Evangelist Calls Down Wrath of Deity on People of Albion, Michigan.

Albion, Mich., May 7.—Crazed by the thought that no sinner wished to be prayed for after he had made an earnest appeal at the close of his sermon last night, Rev. Dan Shannon, evangelist, caused consternation in the First Baptist church by calling down the wrath of God upon the wicked city of Albion. This was followed by call for those who wished to be prayed for to stand up. No one responded and Shannon collapsed. He dismissed the audience, muttering "and after death the judgement" over and over again. The evangelist was taken to the depot and sent to his home at Stanwood, Mich.

Call for Republican Convention.

The Ohio County Republican Executive Committee met at the Court House in Hartford pursuant to call of the chairman, Saturday, April 27, at 1 p. m. The committee was called to order by Chairman Ragland and a roll call by the Secretary showed a quorum present either in person or by proxy. After the objects of the meeting had been stated by the chairman, on motion it was ordered that a mass convention of the Republican electors of Ohio county be held at the Court House in Hartford June 15 at 1:30 p. m., standard time, to select delegates and Alternates to attend the Republican State Convention to be held in the city of Louisville June 19th, 1907, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, and other State officers, to be voted for at the November election, 1907. This is to conform to the call issued by the State Central Committee, and under which the county will be entitled to 31 delegates.

On motion, it was further ordered that a delegated convention be held at the court house in Hartford on June 15, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m., standard time, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the next General Assembly from this the 26th district, to be voted for at the November election, 1907. It was ordered that mass conventions be held in each voting precinct at the polling place, Saturday, June 8, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m., standard time, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the county convention June 15, 1907. The basis of representation shall be one delegate for each twenty-five, or fraction over twelve votes cast for Judge W. B. Taylor in the county election at November election, 1905.

Upon the above basis the various precincts will be entitled to the following representation: E. Hartford 7, W. Hartford 7, Beda 5, Sulphur Springs 6, Magan 3, Cromwell 5, Cool Springs 3, North Rockport 4, South Rockport 3, Select 4, Horse Branch 5, Rosine 8, East Beaver Dam 3, West Beaver Dam 6, McHenry 5, Centertown 6, Smallhouse 2, East Fordsville 6, West Fordsville 5, Aetnaville 2, Shreve 3, Olaton 3, Buford 2, Bartlett 4, Heflin 2, Ceralvo 2, Point Pleasant 2, Narrows 3, Ralph 3, Prentiss 2, Herbert 1, Arnold 3, Render 4. Total 129, necessary to choice 65.

FREE TRIP TO THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION TO BE GIVEN BY THIS PAPER.

TO TWO MOST POPULAR YOUNG LADIES IN OHIO CO.—ONE NORTH AND ONE SOUTH OF ROUGH RIVER.

Question to be Settled By Ballot, Under Rules Similar to Our Mammoth Cave Trip Last Year.

Last year The Republican gave a very successful free trip to the Mammoth Cave, for Ohio county school boys, determining the favored ones by a popularity contest. We feel, this year, that the young ladies should have a chance. So we have determined to send free of any cost whatever, the most popular young lady in Ohio county, residing North of Rough river, and one residing South of the river, to the Jamestown Exposition. We do not desire to invite any trouble on the age question, and hence make no limit. Any lady who may consider herself young enough to make the trip, may enter the contest. The contest will close Saturday, August 31, at 5 o'clock p. m. The trip will be made sometime in the month of September, and the two successful ladies will be accompanied to Jamestown by one of the editors of this paper, and his wife. Every item of expense including railroad fare, hotel bills, exposition tickets, etc., will be met by this paper.

CONDITIONS OF CONTEST.

Every dollar paid in subscriptions to The Republican, whether arrears or advance, will entitle the person making such payment to 100 votes, and they will be recorded for any one of the candidates as directed. Amounts of less than one dollar will be credited with a proportionate vote. Any one will be allowed to vote for a candidate residing in any part of Ohio county regardless of the voter's residence.

A coupon will be printed in each issue of The Republican, and when clipped and sent to our office, will be counted as five votes for the candidate whose name appears on the same. A supply of blank ballots will be furnished to any one on application. The names and standing of the various candidates will be printed in these columns from time to time. Books will be opened, ready for votes next Monday morning, March 18. Select your candidate, and arrange to aid her in every possible way.

NOT GOOD AFTER MAY 13.

FREE TRIP TO THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

This Ballot Will Count 5 Votes for

Miss

When properly filled out and returned to The Republican office by mail or otherwise on or before expiration of date shown above.
